‘Act East’ policy: India deploys warships in South China Sea

SANJEEV MIGLANI
New Delhi, August 4

INDIA IS SENDING a naval task force to the South China Sea this month to expand security ties with friendly countries, officials said on Wednesday, signalling its intent to play a bigger role in regional efforts to counter China.

The Indian military has been traditionally wary of antagonising China but the mood has hardened following clashes between troops on the disputed land border last year. The government has since drawn closer to the US in efforts to push back against China.

Four ships, including a guided missile destroyer and a missile frigate, will be deployed for a two-month period to southeast Asia, the South China Sea and the western Pacific, the Navy said in a statement. "The deployment of the Indian Navy ships seeks to underscore the operational reach, peaceful presence and solidarity with friendly countries towards ensuring good order in the maritime domain..." the Navy said.

The South China Sea has become one of many flash-points in the testy relationship between China and the US, with Washington rejecting what it calls unlawful territorial claims by Beijing in the resource-rich waters.

In June, a US aircraft carrier group led by the USS Ronald Reagan entered the South China Sea as part of a routine mission and a British carrier group is due to undertake exercises in the Philippine Sea this month. As part of their deployment, the Indian ships will take part in annual joint war drills involving the US, Japan and Australia off the coast of Guam, the navy said.

The four countries make up the Quad, an informal group, that US President Joe Biden's administration is promoting as a way to counter an assertive China. "These maritime initiatives enhance synergy and coordination between the Indian Navy and friendly countries, based on common maritime interests and commitment towards Freedom of Navigation at sea," the Indian Navy said in its statement.

China has in the past criticised multilateral military manoeuvres as destabilising to the region. — REUTERS

IndiGrid draws up plan to buy solar assets of up to ₹5,000 cr

VIKAS SRIVASTAVA
Mumbai, August 4

INDIGRID, INDIA'S FIRST POWER-SECTOR infrastructure investment trust (InvIT), is looking to acquire operational solar assets as part of its diversification strategy, with an outlay of up to ₹5,000 crore.

The move comes after completion of five years of profitable operation of the transmission assets-based InvIT. "IndiGrid now holds ₹21,000 crore of assets that gives us the headroom to diversify into other assets," said Harsh Shah, CEO. For the time being, IndiGrid would not venture into areas other than power transmission and solar projects, he added.

"We can bring anywhere between ₹4,000 crore-5,000 crore worth of profitable solar projects under the current InvIT," he said, adding that there was no plan to float a new solar-specific trust. Rather than big-ticket solar projects, IndiGrid would scout for small and profitable ones, which are cost-effective. The company in the last one year has acquired projects worth ₹7,500 crore which included the first solar asset for ₹660 crore bought in July 2021.

IndiGrid's right issue in April for ₹1,284 crore was 70% cap prescribed under the Sebi regulations," Shah said.

In Q1FY22, IndiGrid's net revenue and operating profit grew 53% each year-on-year to ₹554 crore and ₹504 crore, respectively. The earnings were supported by acquisitions and strong operational performance.

The board also approved a distribution per unit (DPU) of ₹3.19. The record date for the distribution is August 5, 2021, and shall be paid as ₹3.04 per unit in the form of interest and ₹0.15 per unit as dividend. In the last 17 quarters since its listing, IndiGrid has distributed ₹48.96 per unit to its investors, which is a total return of over 83% on the issue price.

KKR and GIC together hold around 45% in IndiGrid, while Sterlite Power holds 40% in the investment manager arm of IndiGrid.

In fact, on August 2, Birla's June 7 letter written to Cabinet secretary Rajiv Gauba came to light in which he wrote that he's willing to give up his stake in the company to any public sector, government,

Kumar Mangalam Birla steps down as Voda Idea chairman or domestic financial entity, which can keep the company as a going concern.

"It is with a sense of duty towards the 27 crore Indians connected by VIL, I am more than willing to hand over my stake in the company to any entity - public sector/government /domestic financial entity or any other that the government may consider worthy of keeping the company as a going concern," Birla said in the letter. "I and my team will be more than happy to work with the government to urgently explore all possible options and solutions to save the company and strengthen it in the national interest without any consideration of our private interest," it added. The company also said in Wednesday's regulatory filing that based on recommendations of the nomination and remuneration committee, the board has appointed Sushil Agarwal, a nominee of Aditya Birla Group, as an additional director (non-executive and non-independent) with effect from August 4, 2021.

In his June letter, Birla had also listed the areas where the Centre's support was needed by the end of July. Without the help, he had said, the company's operations would be driven to "an irretrievable point of collapse".

The fate of VIL currently hangs in balance with its cash flows depleting, a massive debt of ₹1.8 lakh crore and the company continuously losing customers to competition offering cheaper tariffs. The company has also highlighted it is facing challenges to raise the planned funds of ₹25,000 crore as investors are wary about the future of the telecom sector due to the low pricing structure.

Analysts have said Birla's offering his stake to the Centre has some basis as a lot of government money is riding on the company. For instance, of its ₹1.8-lakh crore net debt, government dues in the form of deferred spectrum payment (₹96,300 crore) and AGR dues (₹61,000 crore) come to around ₹1.57 lakh crore. The Aditya Birla Group has a 27.66% stake in Vodafone Idea. The other partner in the firm is Vodafone Plc, which has around 44% stake. The current market capitalisation of the company is around ₹24,000 crore.
